Harlem to Honolulu

It takes the average frequent flyer 12 months to travel enough miles to qualify for Southwest Airlines' companion pass. Les and Chris Steckel only needed eight.

In their first year of ministry, the FCA President and "First Lady" were on the road as many days as a typical person spends in an office during an entire calendar year. But it wasn't without purpose. Both Les and Chris knew they were called to spend that time immersing themselves in the FCA field, learning from and building relationships with staff across the country.
