

Honey, If You Love Me...

Make a team of guys and girls and have one of the groups say to the other, "Honey, if you love me, would you please, please smile." If the person smiles, then it is a point for the team that made them smile. If they don't smile, then it is a point for their team. Allow them either 2 or 3 tries to make them smile. Teams could consist of 4 or 5 members and only one member goes at a time.
