

The Boss

Sometimes, Terina Dutton still can't believe the thing is actually sitting in the garage. But there it is, day after day, taking up space ... a lot of space. And more often than not, it's plugged into the wall, chugging electrical currents like a parched distance runner does water, just so it can function.

With a white exterior, red interior, convertible top and boatish length, John Dutton's 1969 Cadillac Coupe DeVille is quite a sight to behold. But the best part about it is its alleged history.
