

Capital Gains

On August 30, 2006, I traveled to Washington, D.C., to experience a day with FCA's rapidly expanding inner-city ministry there. The ministry, spearheaded by FCA Area Representative David Kiehn, seeks to bring restoration and prosperity to the city by touching the lives of athletes and coaches in some of D.C.'s roughest areas. During my visit I met with football coaches at Dunbar High School and Anacostia High School. What I found was that change within D.C.'s inner-city doesn't occur overnight by passing a bill or amending a law, but by reaching the hearts of its youth with the gospel.
