

Fruit Basket Turnover

This is best played with a big group.

Everyone gets in a circle with chairs. And one person stands in the middle and gives each person a fruit: apple, grape, banana, or an orange.

The person in the middle then calls out one of the fruits. And everyone who has that fruit gets up and changes seats with someone else who has that fruit.

The person in the middle can also call out "Fruit Basket Turnover". Then everyone gets up and changes seats. The person left in the middle is out and picks someone to take their place in the middle and they call out the next fruit. Play continues until you have one winner.
