

Trash-Talking

Ready:

“For the mouth speaks from the overflow of the heart.” -- Matthew 12:34b

Set

In 1998, the Ohio State Buckeyes beat Northwestern 36-10, but personal fouls and unsportsmanlike conduct tainted the win. OSU’s coach at the time, John Cooper, made a point to his number-one ranked team, emphasizing that there is no place in football for trash-talking and taunting and that it can be a distraction more than a help.

Discussing the numerous flags that were thrown during the game, Cooper demanded that the trash-talk behavior stop. “You can have a good, tough, hard-nosed football game without all that stuff,” Cooper said. “I think college football would want to do more to prevent trash-talking. It seems like we’re more worried about a guy celebrating in the end zone after a touchdown than with what else is going on during the game.”

Jesus said, “For the mouth speaks from the overflow of the heart.” (Matthew 12:34b) Play with the character that’s reflective of a heart surrendered to the Lord.

It is not our accomplishments that influence others, but our character. Trash-talking means we must belittle others in order to build ourselves up as greater and better than them. That type of behavior is both unsportsmanlike and unworthy of a follower of Christ.

Go

- What is the spirit of your heart as you compete?
- Is it easy for you to trash talk? If so, how do you think the Lord wants you to change such behavior?

Workout

Matthew 12:34

James 3:1-12

Overtime

“Lord, I need help with my mouth. Take total control of my heart. Amen.”

Fellowship of Christian Athletes © 2024
8701 Leeds Road | Kansas City, MO 64129 | 800.289.0909
Comments or Questions, fca@fca.org
Privacy Policy | Report a Problem | Copyright

Source URL:<https://fcaresources.com/devotional/trash-talking-0>