

If I weren't a huddle leader...

Plot of Skit:

Each person has an occupation that they would be if they weren't huddle leaders. This is just a funny skit that gives all the huddle leaders a chance to be up front. All of them sing the song with just one person at a time singing the last part..."a farmer I would be. Give, Bessie, give. My baby's got to live." Then they all do their individual lines before repeating and adding another person.

Characters: As many as you want

Listed below is the song and some examples for you to use.

If I weren't a huddle leader, I'll tell you what I'd be.

If I weren't a huddle leader, a _____ I would be.

Examples:

FARMER: Give, Bessie, give. My baby's got to live.

BIRD WATCHER: Hark, hark, I think I see a lark. Splat!

FOOTBALL PLAYER: Hut, hut, hike! There's that girl I like!

CHEERLEADER: Go! Win! Fight! I hope he calls tonight.

ARMY: The few! The proud! I'm shouting really loud.

CARPENTER: 2 by 4. Nail it to the floor.

SHOPPER: Charge it! Charge it! Daddy'll pay the bill.

SINGER: Do Re Mi. I sing off key.

GOLFER: Birdie. Par. These terms are so bizarre.

HAIRDRESSER: Clip. Clip. When I get done she'll flip.

REFEREE: Traveling! Foul! Throw in the towel.

PLAYER: You stink! Throw in the towel.

WEATHER PERSON: Rain! Rain! I think I'll go insane.
